

These materials have been written and compiled by senior elementary education students at Lenoir-Rhyne College in Hickory, North Carolina during the fall semester of 2006, as a part of the first Little Read.

It is our sincere hope that these materials will be used to support instruction before, during and after Christopher Paul Curtis visits this spring. Every attempt has been made to properly cite compiled resources and to edit for errors in writing conventions. We apologize for anything we missed in editing.

We wish to thank Billy Cannon for his tireless work with the more technical aspects of organizing this project. We are also grateful to Mr. Christopher Paul Curtis for agreeing to be the first writer in the Little Read series of visiting children's authors, and for making history come alive for children and for us in his books.

The materials found in this resource are for the express use of those educators connected with the Little Read. Use or duplication of the materials by all others without permission of The Little Read is prohibited. Inquiries regarding use may be directed to:
