These are poems that could be shared at many grade levels.

Pigs
(by Janet Bruno)
I think pigs
Are really nice.
Their tails are curly,
Their faces fat,
Their noses are so
very flat.
They eat like hogs.
They real ly stink.
They wallow in mud.
Some are quite pink.
I think pigs
Are really nice.

This Little Piggy
This little piggy can wiggle its ears,
Wiggle its nose,
And wiggle its toes.
This little piggy can jump up and down,
turn around,
And touch the ground.
This little piggy can grunt when it's sad,
Squeal when it's mad,
And oink when it's glad.
This little piggy can eat very fast,
Splish and splash,
Then sleep in the grass.

Materials will vary on how you would like to display the poems. You will need the poems.
This is a collection of pig songs.

Ten Little Piggies
One little, two little, three little piggies
Four little, five little, six little piggies
Seven little, eight little, nine little piggies
Ten little piggies in the pen.

The Pigs Go Marching
(Sung to the tune of "The Ants Go Marching")
The pigs take mud baths one by one, Hurrah! Hurrah!
the pigs take mud baths one by one, Hurrah! Hurrah!
The pigs take mud baths one by one, the little one stops to chew his gum.

chew gum to the beat! (fun and cute!)
And they all go marching down to the farm. Oink! Oink!

Five Little Pigs
(Sung to the tune of "Five Little Ducks")
Five little pigs rolled in the mud -
Squishy, squishy felt so good.
The farmer took one piggie out.
"Oink, oink, oink" the pig did shout!
Count down until...
No little pigs rolled in the mud.
They all looked so clean and good.
The farmer turned his back and then,
Those pigs rolled in the mud again!

Pinky
(Sung to the tune of "Bingo")
There was a farmer who had a pig
And PINKY was his name, oh,
P-I-N-K-Y
P-I-N-K-Y
and PINKY was his name, oh!
Or
There was a farmer who had a pig
And PORKY was his name, oh,
P-O-R-K-Y
P-O-R-K-Y
and PORKY was his name, oh!
Try B-A-C-O-N, C-U-R-L-Y, and
O-I-N-K-Y

Materials: You will need the songs and may want to teach the original versions. Other than that it is up to the teacher on how to display the songs.
